Sentence: Come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; that he may teach us his ways and that we may walk in his paths.

Isaiah 2.3a

Prayer for the Day

Almighty God,

you give us this season to make ourselves ready for the coming of your Son.

In this time of waiting and hoping, assist us to order our lives

so that we may be ready to welcome Jesus in the flesh.

through Jesus Christ our Liberator,

who is alive and reigns with you,

in the unity of the Holy Spirit,

one God, now and for ever.

Amen.

The Prayers of the People

To the phrase: Jesus, in your mercy

Please pray: hear our prayer

Theme for the week

Today is the first Sunday in Advent. The word advent means “coming.” It signifies the period preceding the birth of Christ when the Church anticipates the coming of the Messiah. It is the beginning of the Church’s year in the Western tradition. Traditionally we use the colour purple during Advent as it signifies royalty, but also the suffering of the cross, pointing to the connection between Jesus’ birth and death. Advent is a time of preparation for the coming of Christ, first in his incarnation as the baby born in Bethlehem and in his second coming at the end of time. Today’s reading from Matthew 24:36–44 reminds us that only God knows when Christ will return, but in the meantime we must live our lives in a spirit of anticipation, expectation, and hope.

The beginning of Advent is a time to decorate the church with the Advent wreath and a tree to help symbolize the new and everlasting life brought through Jesus the Christ. The wreath is circular, real, or artificial, with five candles, four around the wreath which represent the period of waiting during the four Sundays of Advent with the Christ candle in the centre. The circle of the wreath reminds us of God and God’s eternity and endless mercy which has no beginning or end. The green of the wreath speaks of the hope that we have in God, the hope of newness, of renewal, of eternal life. The candles symbolize the light of God coming into the world through the birth of God’s son.
